

Our Mission is to Provide HR related educational and consulting services, which are client-responsive and exceed client expectations for value, predictability, communications, and commitment, which are consistent with our standards for quality and profitability.

Guiding Principles

We believe

It is our duty to respect our client and protect its confidentiality; therefore, information collected from our clients will be limited to what is absolutely necessary for serving the client. When safeguarding such information can not be adequately insured such information shall not be collected and must not be filed or kept.

We believe

In the people of our company; therefore, we will provide all our people with a proactive, challenging, open work environment, compensation consistent with productivity, and an opportunity to grow.

We believe

Integrity is the foundation of all long-term relationships; therefore, we will expect honesty and completeness in all the business transactions, communications, and dealings.

We believe

Who we are as individuals and as a company is defined by the quality of our products and services; therefore, we will provide systems, procedures, resources, and the training necessary for each person to excel and will hold each other accountable for excellence.

We believe

Communication is critical to all business relationships; therefore, we develop, implement, and maintain systems that assures that all who need to know, do know and on a timely basis.

We believe

Profitability is essential for continuous service to our clients and to each other; therefore, we will expect client relationships to be profitable and mutually productive.

We believe

That continuing client relationship is a significant asset of our company; therefore, consistent with our Mission, and Guiding Principles, we will endeavor to make every client a repeat client.

We Believe

A profitable, growing business should, from its resources, invest in the communities that sustain it; therefore, directly or thru reputable charity organizations we will help those less fortunate and our community.
